Under Armour Pre-Season All-America Tournament - Presented by Baseball Factory and Team One Baseball on January 14, 15, 16

The 2012 Under Armour Pre-Season All-America Tournament features the top high school players (ages 14-18) from across the country in a wood bat competition. Only Division 1 caliber players are invited based on a strong performance at previous Baseball Factory or Team One events, or by a professional scout's recommendation.

Players represent their region showcasing and competing for this "non paper" All-American honor. In addition, Baseball Factory scouts watch the 2013 and 2014 graduates for possible selection to the Under Armour All-America Game, which was played at Wrigley Field last year.

It is the sixth annual Under Armour Pre-Season All-America Tournament for Kino Sports Complex. Games are scheduled on the South Quad throughout the day between 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Parking is available at the west Ajo parking lot and the public is welcome to come out and watch the competition.

International Baseball AT KINO SPORTS COMPLEX

Two Korean baseball teams – the Hanwha Eagles and the NC Dinos – have rented the south clubhouses and fields for training and conditioning of their athletes. Both teams are members of the Korean Baseball Organization. The NC Dinos team is a 2011 addition to the Korea Professional Baseball League. The Eagles arrive mid-January for four weeks followed by the NC Dinos arrival February 19 for their team's spring training.

Gem & Mineral Shows at Kino Sports Complex

Again this year, the Kino Sports Complex will be the site of three independent trade shows that are part of Tucson's Gem and Mineral Show. All shows are open to the public. There is no admission charge, parking is free, and there's a food court! A shuttle is available (that is handicap accessible) to help guests move between the shows. Come out and enjoy!
